Orders for Discipline and Treatments	PT: d/c Transfer Training. d/c Teach Home Safetyd/c , Positioning to Prevent Injuryd/c , PT/SO Safe Bed Mobility
Goals/Rehabilitation Potential/Discharge Plans	PT Goals: d/c Short Term Goal: Independent Pain Management within cert period. d/c Short Term Goal: Independent Safe Bed Mobility within cert period. d/c Short Term Goal: Patient/SO will be knowledgeable with edema management techniques within cert period. d/c Long Term Goal: The patient will demonstrate improved functional lower extremity strength by improving 30 second sit to stand score to 6 to allow patient to decrease fall risk within cert period. d/c Patient Stated Personal Goal- Short Term Goal: Pt agrees to complete daily HEP and ambulation program x2 weeks to improve LE strength and return to an independent level in the home setting within cert period
Clinical Summary	CURRENT LEVEL OF FUNCTION: Pt is improving with skilled PT services and has been free from falls. She is making progress toward all goals. Pt has returned to an independent level of bed mobility, transfers and household ambulation without AD. Pt ambulates outdoors with a SC and Supervision. She performs stairs with Supervision for safety with non recip pattern. BARRIERS/CHALLENGES: Pt continues below her previous baseline level and continues to demonstrate decreased strength, balance, and endurance. She will benefit from continued gait training outdoors for improved safety and continued balance training. SKILL/REASON FOR CONTINUED SERVICE: Skilled PT services are necessary to continue in order to address the endurance, strength, balance, gait and safety deficits, in order for pt to return to PLOF. Without PT services, the patient is at a significant risk for falls with injury, decreased quality of life and increased dependence on caregivers for mobility. This would result in a decreased quality of life. PT services are expected to improve the patients mobility to return to PLOF and decrease risk of falls. HOMEBOUND: Pt is currently homebound at this time as it is a taxing effort for pt to safely leave their home due to the above impairments, placing them at an increased risk of falls. 24/7 CNHC availability and red flags reviewed DISCHARGE PLANNING: 3 weeks ADJUSTMENT TO THE POC: Updated PT POC; continue 1x/wk POC REVIEW: Plan of care reviewed with Patient, who verbalizes understanding and agrees to continue to participate. Richard C Landis, PT
